I have the following markup for an image link: Image Link 1 I want to access all the attributes in the data-* section in javascript. I need to determine what the data attributes are and how many of them there are. Then, I need to set the here attribute of the a tag to be a value based on which image the user clicks on. How do I go about doing this? A: Have a look at the Attribute Change API. The following snippet should demonstrate how to get all the attributes (with their values) and set them on an element: var attributes = []; var elem = document.getElementById("); for (var name in elem) { if (elem.hasAttribute(name)) { attributes.push(name, elem.getAttribute(name)); } } elem.setAttribute(attributes); Rolf Vitting Rolf O.
