Q: How do I track a tweened arrow in game assets? I'm working with the Arrival asset pack to make a new game and I'm experimenting with a directional arrow I made for testing purposes. I've tweened the position of the arrow by getting the tweened Anchor/Position and set it to .75 times the current one. Using that, I'd like to do a very simple thing: have the Tweened position of the arrow become a child of the Tweened position of the. I thought this would be simple, but it's not. I'd really appreciate it if anyone could explain where I'm going wrong, or show me an alternative way to do it. The.gif of the arrow I'm talking about is here: d0c515b9f4

Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a polysiloxane hydrogel cross-linked by a covalent bond (hereinafter, referred to as covalently cross-linked polysiloxane hydrogel), having an excellent property as a contact lens material for optically transparent soft contact lenses by using a reactive group in the molecule thereof. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, in the field of contact lens, various contact lens materials which are optically transparent and has sufficient durability have been developed. However, the conventional contact lens materials using copolymer of polyalkylene glycol and polysiloxane or hydrogel which is obtained by polymerizing silicone hydrogel material is difficult to be dissolved into the tears of the eye, and to be in a solution, they have to be cross-linked by a method such as heat, ultra-violet rays or gamma irradiation. For this reason, when the cross-linking is performed by using the heat, the solution is gelated. And, for the contact lens material, it is impossible to dissolve it into the tears to be in a solution state. Therefore, in the conventional methods, there is a problem that the durability of the contact lens is not sufficient, and it is impossible to use an organic solvent or water. The hydrogel is a material having a three dimensional network of hydrophilic polymer chain in water. The hydrogel is variously used in the field of a contact lens material, and is called as xe2x80x9chydrogelxe2x80x9d. The conventional hydrogel is a material having a three-dimensional network structure of a chain of hydrophilic polymer in water, and in general the cross-linking is conducted by causing high energy rays to act upon the polymers to make the chains cross-linked, so that the chain network is formed. As an example of a conventional hydrogel, there is a method of synthesizing a hydrogel using a base component of a siloxane such as a polydimethylsiloxane which has a Si-O-Si structure, an alkoxy group, or a vinyl group as a terminal, by a known method. In addition, another method is known in which a polymer is synthesized by
