

Letter Splatter is a fast-paced 2D action puzzle/platform game for phones and tablets, where you need to avoid obstacles while using your letters to create patterns and pop balloons. It's an endless game where you can play 2 games at the same time (unlimited games in the current free version). There are a total of 4 characters with different abilities, and each of them can be upgraded throughout the game. Each chapter (book) has a different type of theme: the Order, the Chaos, the Animals, and the Vegetables. Your objective in each game is to pop as many balloons as possible using your letters. You will also need to avoid obstacles, but for more letters you can eliminate them. Along the way there are powerups, which give you more letters (more stars are collected) or which help you get past certain obstacles. In each game you will get 3 powerups. The Order is the most difficult of the book themes, so it's recommended to start with it. The Chaos is the easiest one, so it's recommended to start with that. The Animals theme is centered around animals, and finally the Vegetables theme is centered around vegetables. In this game your character is a ninja who wants to pop some balloons. You have four characters at your disposal and each one of them are upgradable. As you play, you can unlock new skills (upgrade your characters) which may help you in the game, or speed up the game in certain ways. Gameplay: in Letter Splatter, your objective is to pop as many balloons as possible while using your letters to create patterns and avoid obstacles. The player controls a ninja character who must move forward and avoid the lines of falling balloons, the other balloons, and the obstacles. To pop balloons, you must align the balloons when it's time to pop them (a string of balloons has to be touching each other). If a character touches a falling balloon it loses a life, and if a balloon touches an obstacle or another character, the balloon is lost. You may also have to rotate the balloons to position them properly. This is the free version of the game. This version has 20 different stages and has 40 achievements to collect. There are 7 characters with different abilities: 1. Ninja - the main character. The ninja is able to jump over obstacles, avoid losing lives when touching falling balloons, and avoid falling balloons. 2. Rabbit - a character that the ninja upgrades into if collected two stars. The rabbit

It is a shame what's happening to the sun of San Francisco. Its getting smaller and redder and darker. You may or may not know that we are living in an apocalypse. Prepare for the end of days. The question is, Do you want to be a part of it or a loser who just makes the shits hard? Time is running out and everyone in the city is affected, because as we all know, no one can survive without sun, so take this on the chin and start living your life, or die trying.Can you hear that sound? Have a look at this review. This is one of the best recent games I've played. Real fun.The level designer can specify level goals, and the map generation engine works out a level design which is then handed to the level designer for tweaking. Even when I played the game under not entirely the optimal circumstances, it just felt like fun and interesting. One of the things that makes it fun is that there are procedurally generated items that the player can use. Each object you pick up has a set amount of charge left, which increases as you pick up more objects of the same type. Your object types have to be collected in order for the level to be completed, and there are events that occur when you pick up the correct combination of objects, some of which are random and some of which you can plan. It is a good introduction to real-time strategy and procedural content generation.
