A: To clarify your issue - The install script for phpinstaller is NOT included in your wp-includes directory. 1 - Download and install phpinstaller from: 2 - Download the IonCube PHP Encoder directly from: 3 - Rename the IonCube PHP Encoder to IonCube7.zip 4 - Extract the archive 5 - Go into the directory: wp-includes\load 6 - Open up the path: php\ext\php_curl.dll 7 - Copy the file you downloaded in step 2: IonCube7.zip 8 - Paste it in the location of step 6 9 - Use the command-line instructions on how to set up the settings on your server: 10 - You should now have IonCube working on your site. , you truly are a diamond in the rough. I'm not sure if you're sure that I hate you for this, but I'll forgive it on the basis that I may see you again. @SL - I agree wholeheartedly, and I've seen a number of posts like that on other blogs. The consensus seems to be that the kids are having so much fun that everything else is being left aside. Of course that is true, but they're kids and they don't want to be left behind with the adults. Just don't forget the adults, and where they fit into the equation. It's really more of an accident that I ran into you than an intentional meeting. We had the same U-lock, but a few wrong turns over the course of a couple of weeks separated us. Just a coincidence, and I was very happy to finally meet you here. It's good to finally know someone who is here, and staying here, instead of driving off. ? I also agree with everyone else that is concerned about the amount of time the kids are spending at the Point. I keep telling Brendan that if the tide changes, that we won't be able to keep them there. He doesn't think that will happen, so I don't have any more
