The latest, greatest adventure in puzzling Magic Vines will take you from the jungles to the .Q: xvfb is not running and checking if the command works I want to execute xvfb for a while, so after some reading I tried this command: java -jar --server-args="-screen 0,1023x1023x24 -nolisten tcp" --multi-client --export XAUTHORITY=/home/nothack/xauth/0x0 --xrandr --addmode S-video 1920x1080x60 --output S-video --auto -- /home/nothack/xvfb $* & Since I am still a java beginner I do not know much about the different parameters, so I have most of them copied from other websites. Now I am wondering if the command is even correct, so if anybody could help me this would be very appreciated! After executing this I do get the output: [1] 12191 But xvfb does not seem to start as it should. Do I have to comment out my X11 variables in the ~/.xinitrc file? The xvfb part was copied from but the command I used does not work. A: It seems that xvfb starts as it should, but there's an error when exporting the second monitor. Hence, I got the xvfb part corrected and now I get both xvfb and xeyes. The X11 variables have to be commented out in ~/.xinitrc, since otherwise I get the message "no Xauthority found" in the xeyes output. The synthesis of myeloperoxidase in the neutrophil.
