Special thanks to my friend who shared this story about his boyhood heroes, the great players that he idolised and whose footprints he's trying to follow from an early age.) First, I wanted to write about my home team the San Miguel Beermen in a humble manner after reading that the team captain (Winnie Llumangac-Lim), starting the season with a 1-6 record in the Philippine Cup, has once again shown his leadership qualities. I'm writing this in memory of the great San Miguel Beermen players that I watched for a long time in my childhood. They were the players that even if I didn't have money to buy tickets to watch them play, I made my way to the field to watch the national team or the foreign stars play against them. So, this long-time San Miguel Beermen fan wrote this article to share with everyone my passion to see our team win. San Miguel is my favorite team and my parents are also fans of the blue and white. When I was young, I followed my family's passion, they were also proud to watch my aunt Karing Bell-San Miguel. She was a tricycle rider that would ride in a San Miguel uniform which was the international jersey that she used to play in. She played for the San Miguel Beermen until her retired. I remember my dad in his younger days playing basketball for San Miguel Beermen after moving to the country. It was the team of the time. On my brother's first birthday, we had a big celebration of my brother💎
