!inpc me phunya doosr hee aur leno..... /u/Kimi-E95-Kewpiee is right, but i've a special purpose. I don't like to yell and say just shut up. It's of the same context to the gym thread, but i'll do a little policing. Of course i'm not in the thread :x Online dating, atlantea. In online personals, there are a lot of people out there, and there is some chance of meeting someone you really click with.Q: How to find a word with an accent in a java string I've an french text file with words with accents and for some reason the length of the encoded string generated by the scanner is almost half the text file. When running the program, the console read them all perfectly but when the BufferedReader read them, it ignores the accents. How can i convert the accent in to something workable in Java? Reading from a java file, the file content is: Merci d'avoir rejoint ce soir le festival, accompagné par une belle femme. C'est aussi, selon toute vraisemblance, le rejet de votre fils pour sa files is different compared to the byte order used by `File.readByteArray()`. Someone (either by accident or purposely) altered your file, specifically byte-wise, so it can no longer be read. (E.g., you read the file twice. Each time you read from the stream backwards.) Also, the reason you can't read the file is likely because of the errors in the file. Perhaps it's corrupt or formatted in an unusual way that `File.read()` can't handle.

Enterovirus 71 infection and central nervous system diseases. Enterovirus 71 (EV71) has been associated with severe central nervous system (CNS) diseases, such as aseptic meningitis, encephalitis, acute flaccid paralysis and brainstem encephalitis. These disorders have affected both infants and children. EV71 infections associated with CNS diseases can be fatal and, in some cases, survivors may suffer permanent sequelae. EV71 was first isolated in California in 1969. The virus has been associated with a wide variety of CNS diseases and epidemics. EV71 is now one of the most common pathogens in aseptic meningitis, encephalitis and acute flaccid paralysis in the Asia-Pacific region. Recent EV71 epidemics in Asia (Cambodia, China, Taiwan and Malaysia), the Pacific islands (the Pacific states of American Samoa and Hawaii) and East and Southeast Asia (Singapore, the Philippines and Indonesia) have caused widespread outbreaks of CNS diseases. In the Philippines, the first EV71 infection reported in the international literature was in August 2006. The outbreak was detected after the emergence of a febrile disease associated with hand, foot and mouth disease and severe problems for neonates, including pneumonia, dehydration and
