A perilous journey into the lost city of Atterra and the vastness of space aboard the mysterious Axiom. In this Metroidvania-like adventure, you explore a hand-drawn sci-fi world reminiscent of old school video games such as Super Metroid. As an augmented intelligence, you are upgraded with amazing abilities, enabling you to split into two explorers: the Axioma and the Verge. The first is able to operate machines, cast hyper-lightning and long-range teleportation, while the latter lends itself to flight and impressive parkour skills. Developed by Overhype Games, this is the long-awaited game from the creators of Penumbra: Black Plague and Dear Esther. Key Features: • A Portrait of Nintendo: A fully hand-drawn world inspired by classic Metroidvania games from Nintendo. • The Lost City of Atterra: Enter a deep and vast space station where life is found in spartan metal and bare stone. A cautionary tale of a social experiment gone wrong. • An Augmented Intelligence: A sentient computer AI, the Axioma, is your partner and guide, helping you to navigate through hazardous environments and prepare you for what's to come next. • Seven gameplay styles: Explore in a run-and-gun experience that blends action and platforming, or activate turrets to defend yourself against hordes of enemies. • Enriching 2.5 Hours of gameplay: Over 30 upgrades to acquire and play around with, including two playable characters, abilities, weapons and augments. • Procedurally generated levels: Explore a multitude of maps in a huge space station and encounter countless new enemies and items. • Large open environments: Seamlessly change between four dynamic camera perspectives and explore every corner of the hand-drawn hand-crafted environment. • Unique enemy behavior: A perilous journey into the Lost City of Atterra culminates with the Seven Deadly Sins. These evil beings are in search of twelve relics to fulfil their corrupted ambitions. About Overhype Games: Overhype Games is a two-man studio based in Edinburgh, Scotland. Led by Tom Happ, the creator of Penumbra, Dear Esther and the award-winning The Cat Lady, Overhype Games is a small independent studio with big aspirations.
