Magma Responsive Magazine Blogger Template v2.0 Magma Responsive Magazine Blogger Template Free DownloadFilm at 11 Film at 11 is a 1978 British comedy drama film written and directed by Billy Wilder and starring Orson Welles, Anthony Perkins, Juliet Bilateral, Roger Moore, Kenneth Krantz, Francis Matthews and Janet Suzman. The storyline is similar to his previous film The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes. The film was the second in a series of three films based on the popular character of Professor Moriarty, who appears in the first film, and was followed by The Return of Moriarty in 1980 and the sequel Moriarty! Moriarty! in 2004. Plot summary Oscar Wilde is serving time in prison and later finds himself in his own film. In Victorian London, Inspector Abberline and Sergeant Godson are on duty at the crime scene of an unsolved murder. The victim was a young prostitute with a Bible in her hands, whom Wilde calls "the Girl in the Green Scarf". Inspector Sharpe suddenly appears and says that he will be bringing Wilde to trial for the murder, as Wilde's true identity has been discovered. In the courtroom, Wilde has to answer questions from a packed courtroom. He is confronted with the fact that he may be too famous and notorious for the case to be tried. Wilde quickly concocts a plan. He appeals to the courtroom, claiming that he is in fact Sherlock Holmes, and that he can help clear himself. The only problem is that if he is discovered to be lying, he will be accused of perjury. His plan works, as Sharpe is fooled. In a dimly lit courtroom, Oscar is asked to direct the trial, and he does so. His plan is to show that Wilde killed the Girl in the Green Scarf and dumped her body at the scene of the crime. His defense is simple - as he claims, "I love humanity". He denies all charges and insists that he is innocent. He dismisses the Girl in the Green Scarf as "that Bible-thumper on the corner." He insists that Holmes would never do such a thing. That evening in the courtroom, after the trial is over, Wilde tells the irate and disappointed Inspector that he is not Sherlock Holmes and can't help him. While Inspector Sharpe is upset by what he has discovered, Wilde becomes disenchanted with his new celebrity
