The Iowa 50-item Letter Cancellation (L.C.) Test (Brickenfeld, 1978) was administered on two occasions (Test I and Test II), with an intervening period of 21 days, to 48 elderly individuals from two long-term care facilities. The L.C. Test was considered to be appropriate for use with an elderly population and the test-retest reliability was assessed using linear regression equations. The intraclass correlation coefficient for the L.C. Test raw score was low (.29) for Test I and .56 for Test II. To address the low test-retest reliability, a pretest intervention is suggested to enhance test-retest reliability for the L.C. Test. NEW DELHI: Banerjee-led TMC is very likely to emerge as the single largest party in the West Bengal assembly when results of the Sunday's elections are declared, according to political experts. BJP and the ruling Left Front would be in power in just two of the 14 seats in the state. West Bengal state political analysts and observers said it was unlikely the Left Front would be able to get a majority in the hung assembly. BJP was leading in 10 constituencies on Wednesday morning. Voting for 272 seats of the 294-seat assembly was held Sunday. The counting will begin on Wednesday. "Both BJP and TMC are set to win two or more seats. Polls have been fought on divisive issues and the incumbent and ousted governments did not have a positive image, so it's been quite a battle. It could be a high score for them both," said an expert. Both TMC and BJP were keen to take out party workers
