this album is easily the best version of milhaud i have ever heard. its beautifully recorded. maurice's full tone brings out the essential qualities of the instruments. his playing is excellent throughout the collection. i think the cello playing is outstanding. the vocal solo on scaramouche would be the highlight for me, unless maybe it was the trumpet solo, which is also good. i have heard a recording of this piece with a trumpet and did not like it, but this recording is excellent. i think that this is a collection that is for the hard core jazz fan. if you want a varied collection of music that has a good mixture of great music from two different eras, you should check out this album. its also a fun approach to all the different styles of spanish influence music. i would highly recommend this to any one interested in jazz or hard core jazz fan to check out. its available from the camera's cathy lovous has been named chair for the 2019 nrcm's principal singers masterclass. her duties include serving as the director of choral activities and assisting in the choral reading and lessons for all three choirs. prior to her appointment to the nrcm chair, cathy directed the manhattan high school choir for 7 years. she also sang the role of the very first "angelina" in the nrcm production of vincent youmans' "angelina" in 2016. she has been in the upper regions of choral societies for over 30 years. she was the chair of the manhattan high school choral festival and is a board member of the east longmeadow wind symphony. she was the assistant director of the nrcm singers masterclass for more than 15 years and also served as the lead soprano for the production of "mary of scotland" and the music supervisor for "the great gatsby". she is looking forward to serving as chair to the next generation of choral singers.
