Hope to see a portableapps macro app in the future but for now that other link should help. The term ($\{oldsymbol\{X\}\}_\{oldsymbol\{it\}\}$) in Eq. 9 represents a vector of control variables such as institutional quality, inflation and public debt. With quality institutions in place, government policies have the potential of achieving its intended outcome. Given that some elements of price distortion is due to government interventions in the form of taxes and subsidies, we expect a mixed relationship between institutional quality and price distortion (Anderson and Masters 2007). In our analysis, we use polity2 as an indicator of institutional quality. According to Anderson and Masters (2007) and Masters and Garcia (2009), government distortionary policies in the form of taxes and subsidies is dependent on the state of the macro-economy. 5ec8ef588b
