KeyMacro helps you to quickly change keyboard input. Now you can easily add your own functions, which you can assign to the keys on your keyboard. Functions like deleting the text at the cursor, recording a text by pressing the button or changing a page in your favorite browser are now available to you.

FEATURES Change the input of the buttons or keys of your computer's keyboard to your own function. Choose a function that you can assign to a key, a combination of keys or to the Alt and Ctrl keys. All functions can be configured individually in the options. Record the user's input with a time/date stamp. When you are recording the user presses the key combination you configured for the function. Record a text that the user types. Send text data to an e-mail address, copy it to the clipboard or open the selected text in a browser.

CONFIGURATION

You can select the function for the recorded key, combination of keys or keystrokes. You can record to multiple functions at the same time. You can configure the behavior for a function. For example you can activate the function only once after the user pressed the button or only if a certain keystroke is available.

Select the keystroke you want to use for recording.
You can configure different keys for recording. For example you can use Alt+F4 or Shift+Ins for recording the user's input.
The exact settings for recording are listed in the help. What is new in this
